

CARVERS HILL ESTATE

Carvers Hill

Carvers Hill Estate is a newly completed wine destination in beautiful rural Wiltshire yet just 45 minutes on the train from London. The Griffiths family already have an estate in Bordeaux and have bought that experience back home across the channel. They have a vision to become the country's leading wine destination encompassing a membership club, winery, event space, vineyard and a desire to produce England's best rose. With private cabins nestled in the countryside around the estate, guests will be able to wake up surrounded by nature and vineyards. A monthly event calendar will play host to various wine and sports legends, this estate is proving to be unlike anything else in the country. The estate will also play host to the corporate sector, providing anything from team building to off site board meetings to company away days.

May 2025 will see the doors open for the first time with tours and tastings available, the first phase of woodland accommodation and their 2024 rose will also be released around this time, could this be the perfect summer combination?
